Section-B: Reading

A. Read the following passage carefully.

The kids with whom no one wants to play with because they always have their heads between the pages of a book are called the 'Book worms'. They are oblivious to the rest of the world, just like earthworms. Later, in college, they spend their days and nights in the library. When they enter the real world, bookworms try to escape into unreality at every chance. Bookworms are thought to be the dullest of the dull.

However, having the label, bookworm does not mean locking one's self away for days and ignoring the rest of the world. Rather, it means one is in love with all the adventures and knowledge which the written word holds, plus all the varieties of life one so rarely encounters in the course of an ordinary day. They wish to share these blessings with every innocent passerby. Usually, a good book is based upon the reader's primary interest. Bookworms are social creatures and they care about the world around them. Knowledge and reading books, of course, is something which connects us to and does not divide us from other people. The only way to do all the things you'd like to do is to read. Bookworms will not fill one's ear with just books. People who don't read often make very poorly informed decisions.

Answer the following questions by selecting the most appropriate options from the ones given below:

17. Book worms are those who
- (a) love the adventure and knowledge hidden in the world of books.

- (b) enjoy in meeting no one.
- (c) spend their evening in a library.
- (d) get happiness in reading books secretly.
- 18. Bookworms are
- (a) conservative by nature.
- (b) social creatures like us.
- (c) not very good friends.
- (d) not interested to play with others.
- 19. Bookworms are misinterpreted to be
- (a) the dullest of the dull.
- (b) good friends.
- (c) engrossed in themselves.
- (d) alive in their own world.
- 20. Knowledge and reading books
- (a) divides people.
- (b) creates differences among friends.
- (c) makes a person lonely.
- (d) connects people.
- 21. The word that means 'unaware' in the passage is

- (a) huddled.
- (b) indecisive.
- (c) oblivious.
- (d) carrels.

B. Read the poem carefully and answer the questions that follow.

The Lamb

Little lamb, who made thee?

Does thou know who made thee,

Gave thee life, and bid thee feed

By the stream and o'er the mead;

Gave the clothing of delight,

Softest clothing, woolly, bright;

Gave thee such a tender voice,

Making all the vales rejoice?

Little lamb, who made thee?

Does thou know who made thee?

Little lamb, I'll tell thee;

Little lamb, I'll tell thee:

He is called by thy name,

For He calls Himself a Lamb.

He is meek, and He is mild,

He became a little child.

I a child, and thou a lamb,

We are called by His name.

Little lamb, God bless thee!

Little lamb, God bless thee!

William Blake
